

Complete both sides of this form and provide documentation as required. If you will need an F-1 or J-1 visa, the University of Illinois Springfield is required by U.S. government regulations to check the availability of adequate funding for your tuition, fees, and living expenses for the duration of your studies. Until all funding documentation has been completed and returned to the Office of Admissions, we will be unable to provide you with the documents necessary to obtain your visa. Proof of funds usually includes bank statements or scholarship letters. Funds should be liquid. All documents should be current, in English; documents older than one year from the time of the student's intended enrollment cannot be accepted. These documents become the property of the Office of Admissions at UIS and will not be returned.

Estimated expenses for single student living alone (without family) in the United States

The amounts below represent fees in effect fall 2010 through summer 2011, but they are subject to change without notice. In 2011–2012 and beyond, students should plan for a 5 to 10 percent annual increase for all costs. In computing expenses, remember F-1 and J-1 visa holders will not be authorized to work except in extraordinary circumstances. Therefore, you should not expect part-time or summer employment to be a significant means of support.

Costs listed are for an academic year (two semesters/nine months).
