| Job Description | The Commission on Government Forecasting and Accountability (COGFA) is a bipartisan legislative support agency charged with providing the Illinois General Assembly with information relevant to the Illinois economy, tax revenue, debt obligations, and State pension systems. The Commission is seeking to hire an Applied Study Term intern for the fall 2013 semester to work on public pension issues.

The ideal candidate would be someone entering their final academic year majoring in economics, finance/accounting, business, or mathematics. Under the direction of the Pension Manager, the successful candidate will be trained to understand, analyze, and interpret complex legislative proposals affecting all Illinois public employee retirement systems. Candidates must have strong math, analytical, and writing skills. This position requires a working knowledge of spreadsheet and word processing applications (particularly Excel and Word).

Primary duties of the position include:
Preparing estimates of State pension funding and also analyzing impacts of proposed legislative changes related to state-funded employee retirement systems.
Preparing written analyses of bills, amendments, and gubernatorial vetoes affecting the funding and benefit provisions of public employee retirement systems.
Preparing historical and statistical analyses pursuant to requests from legislators and legislative staff.
Providing written reports on various topics in the form of brief analyses, memoranda, or comprehensive reports as assigned by the Pension Manager.

Please send a resume and cover letter to the following address:
