Candidate Statement:

I believe it is important for tenured faculty to take advantage of opportunities to “give back” to the campus community. Service on Committees and in the Faculty Senate are two such ways of giving back. Service is an areas in which I am deeply involved, and listing all of my service activities for the last sixteen years would defeat the idea of a “short bio.” I believe my “institutional memory” and experience at all levels of University service will be of benefit to me as a senator from the College of Education and Human Services.
