Please plan to arrive on time, allowing time for heavy traffic and parking. Graduates should enter on the east side of the building nearest Ninth Street. Graduates from the colleges of Business and Management and Public Affairs and Administration will enter through doorways located on the corner of Washington and Ninth streets. Graduates from the colleges of Education and Human Services and Liberal Arts and Sciences will enter through doorways located on the corner of Adams and Ninth streets. NOTE: if you have earned two degrees or are a student with a double major and are unsure which program to line up with, please call JoAnn Mumaw at (217) 206-7730 prior to Noon on the Friday before the ceremony and she will assist you. Staff will be available at information tables located in the lobby and near the line-up areas to assist you. When you have located your program line-up area, wait for your program marshal (who will be wearing a gold stole) to line you up alphabetically by degree level within your program. Your marshal will give you a card with your name on it. You are to hold the card until you hand it to the announcer on stage who will read your name from the card. The marshals will guide you through the procedures.

PROCESSIONAL: The processional will make its way up a large ramp from the lower level to the main level of The Center. You will follow your program marshal to your seat. Move rapidly to the first available seat and be seated immediately. Please move quickly, be courteous, and cooperate with staff along the way. If the walk up the ramp poses a problem for you, please contact JoAnn Mumaw at (217) 206-7730 for instructions on alternative arrangements.
