New 2013 Pap Smear Recommendations

The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (ACOG) recently came out with new Pap smear guidelines.

- Women should have their first screening Pap smear at age 21 unless the woman has had a previous abnormal Pap smear.
- Women in their 20’s should have a Pap smear every two years (assuming prior Pap smears have been normal).
- Women age 30 and older who have had three consecutive normal Pap smears should have a Pap smear every three years.
- Women who have had a hysterectomy for non-cancerous reasons do not need a Pap smear unless they have a cervix.

These guidelines need to be followed whether you have or have not had the HPV vaccine.

UIS Health Services is putting the ACOG recommendations into practice effective January 2013.

- We still recommend a yearly physical including a breast exam, pelvic exam*, and STI screening if indicated.
- You must have an annual physical to receive birth control.
- If you have ever had an abnormal Pap smear, consult with a medical provider concerning how often you will need a Pap smear.

*The pelvic exam may or may not include a Pap smear based upon your history and the ACOG guidelines. Your medical provider will discuss this with you at the time of your appointment.
