Illinois Coalition Against Domestic Violence

Domestic violence, Women’s and/or Criminal issues to help collect and compile information about domestic violence issues: (1) homicides in the state of Illinois and (2) follow-up with the criminal prosecution of previous cases.

ICADV is seeking a student who could help gather newspaper information regarding domestic violence homicides in the state of Illinois. ICADV is searching for an individual who can use web resources to identify pertinent stories, enter data, and conduct limited analysis regarding perpetrators and victims, as well as identifying circumstances leading up to the homicides. ICADV also would like for this individual to contact various entities (e.g., state’s attorney offices, law enforcement departments, domestic violence victim services programs) regarding the outcomes of previously identified cases.

General description of this agency or business:
We are a non-profit, membership organization that works to end violence against women and children. We do not provide direct service to victims, we provide trainings, public education, economic literacy, public policy to improve the response to victims, and federal pass-through dollars to domestic violence shelters state-wide.

Basic student learning anticipated:
The impact that poor policy can have on victims of domestic violence; how non-profits operate; how public policy may be used to improve response to victims to keep them safe, while holding perpetrators accountable; how the criminal justice system works around domestic violence issues.
