Internship Description
Under supervision interns will work with NAACCR staff and volunteers to improve the communication channels of NAACCR. Primary focuses of this internship will center around digital communications including but not limited to social media, email campaigns, and graphic creation. General office administrative duties are possible as well.

Qualified personnel to be considered for the internship are students with a minimum of 3 semesters of college credit already completed and are pursuing a bachelor’s degree in business and/or marketing. They may also be pursuing courses in the field of advertising, public relations, media technologies and graphic design. Any prior work experience, even within the campus, is always taken into consideration.
