LEADERSHIP FOR EQUITY & INCLUSION:
A Bias & Prejudice Reduction Workshop

This workshop consists of a series of incremental, participatory activities that empower individuals of all ages and backgrounds to take leadership in building inclusive communities in their workplaces, social groups, and neighborhoods. Participants are students, staff, and faculty who are exposed to people with similarities and differences who they engage in life changing discussion. The workshop builds effective relationships within and across group identities while learning how to effectively interrupt bias and prejudice.

The UIS Coalition Builders (an affiliate of the National Coalition Building Institute) is a new leadership training organization at UIS that works to eliminate prejudice and conflict. We endeavor to increase our campus’ pro-active response to discrimination, controversy, and intergroup conflict. Learn more at www.uis.edu/coalitionbuilders.
