Units of the
UIS Center for State Policy and Leadership
Office of the Executive Director
Center Publications/Illinois Issues
Institute for Legal and Policy Studies
Institute for Legislative Studies
Office of Electronic Media
Office of Graduate Intern Programs
Papers of Abraham Lincoln
(sponsored by Illinois Historic Preservation Agency)
Survey Research Office
WUIS/WIPA Public Radio

Bill Miller Public Affairs Reporting
Hall of Fame Reception and Induction Ceremony

Recognizing UIS alumni with distinguished careers in journalism.
November 13, 2006
Inn at 835, 5:30 - 8:00 p.m.
835 South Second, Springfield, Illinois

For tickets ($30) call (217) 206-6084

Center for State Policy and Leadership
University of Illinois at Springfield
One University Plaza, MS PAC409
Springfield, Illinois 62703-5407
Phone (217) 206-6576

The UIS Center for
State Policy and Leadership and
Dr. Phillip Shaw Paludan, Naomi B. Lynn
Distinguished Chair of Lincoln Studies present

UNIVERSITY of ILLINOIS at SPRINGFIELD 2006 LINCOLN LEGACY LECTURE SERIES

Lincoln
America's Faith

October 26, 2006 • 7:00 — 9:00 p.m., Brookes Auditorium

"Lincoln, Providence, and the Bible"
Dr. Mark A. Noll

"Abraham Lincoln's Sermon on the Mount"
Dr. Ronald C. White, Jr.
Lincoln Legacy Lecture Series

The UIS Lincoln Legacy Lecture Series, inaugurated in 2002 with the dedication of the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library, brings scholars and policy specialists of national renown to Springfield to present a lecture on a contemporary public policy issue. Unique to this series is each topic is one that both engaged Abraham Lincoln and the citizens of his era and that is still timely today. Each lecturer’s focus is on both the topic’s contemporary form and how Lincoln addressed it at an earlier time. Subjects such as race relations, ethics and power, civil liberties, economic opportunity, and presidential leadership are timeless, legacy issues.

The Series is sponsored by the UIS Center for State Policy and Leadership and Professor Phillip Shaw Paludan, Professor of History and Naomi B. Lynn Distinguished Chair of Lincoln Studies at UIS. The Series is also supported by generous gifts from donors.

UIS Center for State Policy and Leadership

The Center for State Policy and Leadership, located in the Illinois state capital, emphasizes policy and state governance. The Center identifies and addresses public policy issues at all levels of government, promotes governmental effectiveness, fosters leadership development, engages in citizen education, and contributes to the dialogue on matters of significant public concern.

Working in partnership with government, local communities, citizens, and the nonprofit sector, the Center contributes to the core missions of the University of Illinois at Springfield by mobilizing the expertise of its faculty, staff, students, and media units to carry out research and dissemination, professional development and training, civic engagement, technical assistance, media outreach, and public service activities.

2006 Lincoln Legacy Lectures

October 26, 2006
Brookens Auditorium
University of Illinois at Springfield
7:00 – 9:00 p.m.

Welcome
Dr. Anthony Halter, Executive Director
Center for State Policy and Leadership

Introduction of Speakers
Dr. Phillip Shaw Paludan, Professor of History and
Naomi B. Lynn Distinguished Chair of Lincoln Studies

Presentations

Lincoln, Providence, and the Bible

Dr. Mark A. Noll
Francis A. McAnaney Professor of History
University of Notre Dame

Abraham Lincoln’s Sermon on the Mount

Dr. Ronald C. White, Jr.
Fellow, Huntington Library and Emeritus Professor of
American Religious History
San Francisco Theological Seminary

Audience Questions

Reception and Book Signing
Everyone attending the lecture is invited to the reception immediately following in Brookens Concourse. The speakers’ books will be available for purchase at the reception.
Lincoln Legacy Lecture Series

The UIS Lincoln Legacy Lecture Series, inaugurated in 2002 with the dedication of the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library, brings scholars and policy specialists of national renown to Springfield to present a lecture on a contemporary public policy issue. Unique to this series is each topic is one that both engaged Abraham Lincoln and the citizens of his era and that is still timely today. Each lecturer's focus is on both the topic's contemporary form and how Lincoln addressed it at an earlier time. Subjects such as race relations, ethics and power, civil liberties, economic opportunity, and presidential leadership are timeless, legacy issues.

The Series is sponsored by the UIS Center for State Policy and Leadership and Professor Phillip Shaw Paludan, Professor of History and Naomi B. Lynn Distinguished Chair of Lincoln Studies at UIS. The Series is also supported by generous gifts from donors.

UIS Center for State Policy and Leadership

The Center for State Policy and Leadership, located in the Illinois state capital, emphasizes policy and state governance. The Center identifies and addresses public policy issues at all levels of government, promotes governmental effectiveness, fosters leadership development, engages in citizen education, and contributes to the dialogue on matters of significant public concern.

Working in partnership with government, local communities, citizens, and the nonprofit sector, the Center contributes to the core missions of the University of Illinois at Springfield by mobilizing the expertise of its faculty, staff, students, and media units to carry out research and dissemination, professional development and training, civic engagement, technical assistance, media outreach, and public service activities.

2006 Lincoln Legacy Lectures

October 26, 2006
Brookens Auditorium
University of Illinois at Springfield
7:00 – 9:00 p.m.

Welcome
Dr. Anthony Halter, Executive Director
Center for State Policy and Leadership

Introduction of Speakers
Dr. Phillip Shaw Paludan, Professor of History and
Naomi B. Lynn Distinguished Chair of Lincoln Studies

Presentations

Lincoln, Providence, and the Bible

Dr. Mark A. Noll
Francis A. McAnaney Professor of History
University of Notre Dame

Abraham Lincoln’s Sermon on the Mount

Dr. Ronald C. White, Jr.
Fellow, Huntington Library and Emeritus Professor of
American Religious History
San Francisco Theological Seminary

Audience Questions

Reception and Book Signing
Everyone attending the lecture is invited to the reception immediately following in Brookens Concourse. The speakers’ books will be available for purchase at the reception.
Mark A. Noll

After many years of teaching at Wheaton College, Mark Noll in the summer of 2006 joined the history department of the University of Notre Dame as the Francis A. McAnaney Professor of History. He was educated at Wheaton (B.A., English), the University of Iowa (M.A., comparative literature), Trinity Evangelical Divinity School (M.A., church history), and Vanderbilt University (Ph.D., American religious history). He has been the recipient of two year-long fellowships from the National Endowment for the Humanities and in fall 2004 he was elected a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He is an advisory editor for Books and Culture: A Christian Review and sub-editor for the new Religion in Geschichte und Gegenwart. During the academic year 2004-05 he served as Maguire Fellow of American History and Ethics at the Kluge Center of the Library of Congress.

Ronald C. White, Jr.

Ronald C. White, Jr. is Emeritus Professor of American Religious History at San Francisco Theological Seminary and is a Visiting Professor in the History department at UCLA.

The Eloquent President was a selection of the Book-of-the-Month Club which said, “This is a book unlike any other you have read on our 16th president.” The Eloquent President was on the Los Angeles Times bestselling list. The book was selected by The History Book Club as its Main Selection for March 2005, and was also a selection of the Quality Paperback Book Club.

Dr. White is a graduate of UCLA (Honors in History, 1961), Princeton Theological Seminary, 1964, and earned his Ph.D. in Religion and History from Princeton University in 1972. He is a Fellow at the Huntington Library in San Marino, California. White is the author or editor of seven books and is presently writing a biography of Abraham Lincoln to be published in January 2009 by Random House. He has lectured on Abraham Lincoln at the White House and been interviewed on the “News Hour with Jim Lehrer.”
Mark A. Noll

After many years of teaching at Wheaton College, Mark Noll in the summer of 2006 joined the history department of the University of Notre Dame as the Francis A. McAnaney Professor of History. He was educated at Wheaton (B.A., English), the University of Iowa (M.A., comparative literature), Trinity Evangelical Divinity School (M.A., church history), and Vanderbilt University (Ph.D., American religious history). He has been the recipient of two year-long fellowships from the National Endowment for the Humanities and in fall 2004 he was elected a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He is an advisory editor for Books and Culture: A Christian Review and sub-editor for the new Religion in Geschichte und Gegenwart. During the academic year 2004-05 he served as Maguire Fellow of American History and Ethics at the Kluge Center of the Library of Congress.

Ronald C. White, Jr.

Ronald C. White, Jr. is Emeritus Professor of American Religious History at San Francisco Theological Seminary and is a Visiting Professor in the History department at UCLA.

The Eloquent President was a selection of the Book-of-the-Month Club which said, “This is a book unlike any other you have read on our 16th president.” The Eloquent President was on the Los Angeles Times bestselling list. The book was selected by The History Book Club as its Main Selection for March 2005, and was also a selection of the Quality Paperback Book Club.

Dr. White is a graduate of UCLA (Honors in History, 1961), Princeton Theological Seminary, 1964, and earned his Ph.D. in Religion and History from Princeton University in 1972. He is a Fellow at the Huntington Library in San Marino, California. White is the author or editor of seven books and is presently writing a biography of Abraham Lincoln to be published in January 2009 by Random House. He has lectured on Abraham Lincoln at the White House and been interviewed on the “News Hour with Jim Lehrer.”
Phillip Shaw Paludan

Phillip Shaw Paludan is Professor of History and the Naomi B. Lynn Distinguished Chair of Lincoln Studies at the University of Illinois at Springfield. One of the nation's foremost authorities on Abraham Lincoln and the Civil War, he joined the faculty of the History program at UIS in 2001.

He received A.B. and M.A. degrees from Occidental College and his doctorate from the University of Illinois where he studied under Harold Hyman and Robert Johannsen. He taught at the University of Kansas for over thirty years, and held visiting appointments at Rutgers University and University College Dublin, Ireland, before being named Distinguished Chair of Lincoln Studies at UIS.

He is the author of four books on the Civil War era, studying constitutional thought of the age, guerrilla warfare, the impact of the war on northern society (A People's Contest, The Union and Civil War 1861-1865, Harper & Row, 1988), and The Presidency of Abraham Lincoln (Kansas, 1994). He received the Lincoln Prize for his study of Lincoln's presidency, as well as the Barondess Lincoln Award from the New York City Civil War Round Table. His numerous awards include post doctoral fellowships from the American Council of Learned Societies, the Guggenheim Foundation, the National Endowment for the Humanities, and Harvard Law School. He has also received a Diploma of Honor from Lincoln Memorial University and an honorary doctorate from Lincoln College.

Professor Paludan is a frequent invited lecturer, speaking in recent years on Lincoln and Democracy at the University of Kansas and Ohio Northern University, and on Lincoln and the Kansas Nebraska Act at the University of Nebraska. He has published articles recently on Lincoln and Race, Turning Points in the Civil War, and Lincoln's View of Slavery.

We would like to hear from you . . .

We welcome suggestions for future topics and speakers in our Lincoln Legacy Lecture Series. Please email suggestions to us at: cspl@uis.edu.

Financial support by donors helps enable us to sponsor public events such as this and to provide support for student assistantships, visiting scholars, and faculty research. If you would like to help, you can make a contribution electronically by credit card at our website: http://cspl.uis.edu/AboutTheCenter/Common/MakeAGift/

Or telephone:
Office of the Executive Director, Center for State Policy and Leadership
(217) 206-6576, or
UIS Office of Development: (217) 206-6058.

Please see the card inserted in this program for a full list of opportunities to support the educational and outreach activities of the Center.

If you would like to be placed on the Center's mailing list to receive announcements of events and publications, please sign up at our website: http://cspl.uis.edu

A DVD copy of tonight's lectures will be available for purchase. Contact the UIS Office of Electronic Media at (217)206-6799.
Phillip Shaw Paludan

Phillip Shaw Paludan is Professor of History and the Naomi B. Lynn Distinguished Chair of Lincoln Studies at the University of Illinois at Springfield. One of the nation's foremost authorities on Abraham Lincoln and the Civil War, he joined the faculty of the History program at UIS in 2001.

He received A.B. and M.A. degrees from Occidental College and his doctorate from the University of Illinois where he studied under Harold Hyman and Robert Johannsen. He taught at the University of Kansas for over thirty years, and held visiting appointments at Rutgers University and University College Dublin, Ireland, before being named Distinguished Chair of Lincoln Studies at UIS.

He is the author of four books on the Civil War era, studying constitutional thought of the age, guerrilla warfare, the impact of the war on northern society (A People's Contest, The Union and Civil War 1861-1865, Harper & Row, 1988), and The Presidency of Abraham Lincoln (Kansas, 1994). He received the Lincoln Prize for his study of Lincoln's presidency, as well as the Barondess Lincoln Award from the New York City Civil War Round Table. His numerous awards include post doctoral fellowships from the American Council of Learned Societies, the Guggenheim Foundation, the National Endowment for the Humanities, and Harvard Law School. He has also received a Diploma of Honor from Lincoln Memorial University and an honorary doctorate from Lincoln College.

Professor Paludan is a frequent invited lecturer, speaking in recent years on Lincoln and Democracy at the University of Kansas and Ohio Northern University, and on Lincoln and the Kansas Nebraska Act at the University of Nebraska. He has published articles recently on Lincoln and Race, Turning Points in the Civil War, and Lincoln's View of Slavery.

We would like to hear from you...

We welcome suggestions for future topics and speakers in our Lincoln Legacy Lecture Series. Please email suggestions to us at: cspl@uis.edu.

Financial support by donors helps enable us to sponsor public events such as this and to provide support for student assistantships, visiting scholars, and faculty research. If you would like to help, you can make a contribution electronically by credit card at our website: http://cspl.uis.edu/AboutTheCenter/Common/MakeAGift/

Or telephone:
Office of the Executive Director, Center for State Policy and Leadership
(217) 206-6576, or
UIS Office of Development: (217) 206-6058.

Please see the card inserted in this program for a full list of opportunities to support the educational and outreach activities of the Center.

If you would like to be placed on the Center's mailing list to receive announcements of events and publications, please sign up at our website: http://cspl.uis.edu

A DVD copy of tonight's lectures will be available for purchase. Contact the UIS Office of Electronic Media at (217)206-6799.
Units of the UIS Center for State Policy and Leadership

Office of the Executive Director
Center Publications/Illinois Issues
Institute for Legal and Policy Studies
Institute for Legislative Studies
Office of Electronic Media
Office of Graduate Intern Programs
Papers of Abraham Lincoln
(sponsored by Illinois Historic Preservation Agency)
Survey Research Office
WUIS/WIPA Public Radio

Bill Miller Public Affairs Reporting
Hall of Fame Reception and Induction Ceremony

Recognizing UIS alumni with distinguished careers in journalism.
November 13, 2006
Inn at 835, 5:30 – 8:00 p.m.
835 South Second, Springfield, Illinois

For tickets ($30) call (217) 206-6084

Lincoln America’s Faith

October 26, 2006 • 7:00 – 9:00 p.m., Brookes Auditorium

“Lincoln, Providence, and the Bible”
Dr. Mark A. Noll

“Abraham Lincoln’s Sermon on the Mount”
Dr. Ronald C. White, Jr.

Center for State Policy and Leadership
University of Illinois at Springfield
One University Plaza, MS PAC409
Springfield, Illinois 62703-5407
Phone (217) 206-6576