Reflections on Scholarship ....................... Provost Papini

Adjournment
Dear Colleagues:

The introduction of the UIS Strategic Compass provides an opportunity for all of us to reflect anew on the meaning of our professional identity as teacher-scholars. Boyer’s Scholarship of Discovery, Integration, Application, and Teaching are the most exciting and motivating forces in the life of a teacher-scholar. Though the theories and methodologies that guide our efforts to better understand ourselves and the world around us continue to evolve, the core of academic life is guided by the pursuit of knowledge in all of its incredible forms and functions. Today, it is my pleasure to present this listing of scholarly achievements by the faculty of the University of Illinois Springfield. As you review the entire compilation, you will see that it represents academic publications and presentations delivered in state, regional, national, and international venues during the 2017 calendar year, and it is an impressive array. The annual listing is a tangible reflection of our abiding commitment to the teacher-scholar model, in which scholarship and teaching are realized as mutually enlivening and enriching activities. What is most unique about the scholarly profile at our great university is the extent to which students, both undergraduate and graduate, are actively engaged in processes of discovery in and out of the classroom. This not only speaks well of our embrace of the teacher-scholar model, but is perfectly aligned with our stated institutional values and mission.

As you know, we traditionally limit entries in the annual listing to peer-reviewed publications and presentations, which are the time-honored, public forms of faculty scholarship. Nevertheless, we also know that faculty members engage in many other scholarly activities that contribute to the generation and dissemination of new knowledge and to the development of their academic disciplines and professional fields. The value of these activities, including but not limited to manuscript review and selection, external grants and reports, serving on editorial boards, and organizing conference panels, should never be underestimated. Engagement in discovery activities such as these are also a well-recognized mark of the teacher-scholar.

The teacher-scholar model is, indeed, thriving here at UIS, and in the spirit of celebrating excellence in scholarship, I extend sincere congratulations on all of your scholarly accomplishments in 2017, and affirm the commitment of everyone in Academic Affairs to your continuing scholarly efforts and professional success.

Richard Gilman-Opalsky
Associate Professor of Political Science

Dr. Richard Gilman-Opalsky, Associate Professor of Political Science, is an internationally recognized scholar in the fields of political philosophy and social theory. He specializes in the history of political philosophy, continental and contemporary social theory, Marxism, capitalism, autonomist politics, postmodern philosophy, critical theory, global uprisings, and social movements.

Professor Gilman-Opalsky has published a prolific record of scholarship with major university and commercial presses, and his work has been widely reviewed in professional journals and activist circles around the world. Since coming to UIS, he has authored four books: Unbounded Publics: Transgressive Public Spheres, Zapatismo, and Political Theory; Spectacular Capitalism: Guy Debord and the Practice of Radical Philosophy; Precarious Communism: Manifest Mutations, Manifesto Detourned; and Specters of Revolt: On the Intellect of Insurrection and Philosophy from Below. Additional publications include his co-edited volume, Against Capital in the Twenty-First Century: A Reader of Radical Undercurrents, published earlier this year, and numerous journal articles and book chapters. His work has been translated and published in Spanish and Greek editions. External reviews of Dr. Gilman-Opalsky’s scholarship attest to its impact and importance, as do the many invitations he receives to lecture throughout the US, Europe, and most recently, China.

Professor Gilman-Opalsky inspires his students by exploring contentious dialogues about the power of everyday people, a theme that also runs through all of his research. His outstanding teaching is evidenced in remarkable student evaluations and in letters from his colleagues and students. Dr. Gilman-Opalsky has made major revisions in the sequence of courses in political philosophy and has designed and taught courses including Introduction to Political Philosophy, Political Ideas and Ideologies, Democratization and the Public Sphere, Globalization and the Future of Democracy, Marxist Philosophy, and Postmodern Theory: Politics and Possibility. In his integrative teaching and writing, Dr. Gilman-Opalsky exemplifies the ideal of the teacher-scholar.
