

Graduate Student Tuition Differentials

Last Updated: July 29, 2021

Differential tuition has been implemented for the following select graduate programs to enrich the educational experience and maintain the high-quality academic programming students have come to expect from UIS:

College of Business and Management:

Master of Business Administration (Online Program)

Master of Science in Cybersecurity Management (Online Program)

Master of Science in Finance (Online Program)

Master of Science in Healthcare Informatics (Online Program)

Master of Science in Human Resource Management (Online Program)

Master of Science in Management Information Systems (On-ground and Online Programs)

Differential tuition supports and enhances the academic quality of these high demand graduate programs by offering students a premier online environment across courses, access to specialized software and databases, and career mentoring.

College of Liberal Arts and Sciences:

Master of Science in Computer Science Differential (On-ground and Online Programs):

Differential tuition supports and enhances the academic quality of this high-impact, high-demand graduate program by offering students access to specialized software, state-of-the-art equipment, and pre-professional mentoring.

College of Public Affairs and Administration:

Master of Public Administration Differential (Online Program):

Differential tuition supports course enrichment, pre-professional activities, and student research and engagement.

Doctor of Public Administration Differential (On-ground Program):

Differential tuition maintains and enhances the program's ability to provide individualized mentoring during coursework and the thesis process. It also provides support for student research efforts.
