

Two members of the FBI Response Team will present on The Inside-School Shooter. For security purposes, their names are not being released in advance of the conference. One will address the psychological side of responding to a shooter. The other will address the physical response.